So make sure to check back and find new models of chelda photos and images right here on free-extras.com I recently ran across a very interesting post on the website that GC rules prevent me naming. However, you can search for it, at your own risk, with the DuckDuckGo browser. Below is the text of the actual post, largely without me, except for occasional clarifications or grammatical editing. In 2014, a woman named Maya published a statement on the Russian blog about former children's models, about her time at LS Studios and what happened during that time. Below is an English translation of the link to the source! Unfortunately, the original link was not quoted in the post. Note that Maya gives conflicting reports on why she stopped modeling in 2004. My name is Maya. I was born in Kiev in the winter of 1992. I had a great family with lovely grandparents and my parents loved me. I was an ordinary girl. Back in those days, there was a television ad about a company that provided an opportunity for children to become actors or actresses. The ad was so good and tempting that we (my parents and I) bought into it blindly. I really wanted to be an actress or, by least, model. My parents contacted them and we went for an interview. That's how it started. And in the end we didn't expect that one day they would ditch us, and when they did, it was horrible. It was so bad, it hurt our feelings. Anyway, I was 7 years old when they showed us several sets of photos with beautiful girls in different clothes and dresses. They said that all these kits were published on foreign websites (mostly, mostly, and offered to make nude sets. We took it because these pictures were stunning. According to what my mom said, they didn't pay much. She spent a lot on things (food and sometimes clothes) to prepare me for photo sets. Each time it cost about 200 hryvnia (about 28 dollars in the early 2000s). Actually, it's okay. The fact is that I really liked the process of creating photo sets. You know girls like attention. The more attention they get, the more happy they are. Every girl loved when the staff helped her with makeup, haircuts and dress and treated her like a Hollywood star. The company had a tiny sewing room where they produce costumes and stunning dresses. Oh, by the way, I want to point out that they don't make us undress. We played while they were taking pictures with us and it was just fun to undress. As I speak for myself, I have no idea if they did anything to other models, but no one touched me, which is for sure. Under normal circumstances, the only people I touched were a make-up artist and a hairdresser. The staff as a whole worked very hard to make sure the models didn't make friends with each other. I think they did it on purpose because they changed crews very often. They were worried about our feelings about it. I guess. The strange thing is that I was given only 3 photos from each set. Thank you very much to a gentleman who recently sent me all my photos. In 2004, the company was closed by the police. My parents didn't want to lose their social status so they didn't say anything to help the police with the company's investigation? At that time, everything went quiet. I reached puberty early because of my genes. My first time having sex was way, way after sets of photos. I understand the fact that these nude photo sets make me feel sexy for everyone. They don't just affect perverts. These photographs are works of art. But you never know what a bad-minded person will do to them (he/she can become violent and rape children...) no one can help with that. This is what it is, and it will always be. Because it's a temptation. But how to control it? I think there is a solution for it by requiring special licenses to view materials with child sexual content. Just as people get gun licenses in some countries. These licenses will hold people accountable for their actions. When I felt that I didn't want to continue working for the last company, I quit. I used to work for many companies. I can mention one - Alex Models, the company that published LS magazine. I don't remember much, but they were closed and the owner of the company was arrested. But since no one wanted to spoil their life (with a scandal), the owner of Alex Models was released. Today I am a loving wife and mother. I have a beautiful daughter. Of course sometimes it can be difficult, but I'm still too young to give up (I'm only 21 years old). It's going to be fine.' I've included some (perhaps perhaps background information about Maya from the same post. Maya was born in Kiev in the winter of 1992 and lived in central Ukraine. From an early age, Maya was interested in becoming an actress, and to a lesser extent, a fashion model. In 1999, her family and her saw a television advertisement for modeling for Ukrainian Angels, which at that time belonged to Alexander Chursin under the direction of the parent company Alex Models. At that time, views on sexuality in Ukraine were more relaxed, and things like nudism were very common. This, as well as the good money to be earned, probably convinced Maya's parents to let her model nude. Maya began nude modeling for Ukrainian Angels in 1999. She was 7 years old when she started modeling. Ukrainian Angels was renamed LS Studio in 2001, after some clients told Alexander Chursin that he might want to advertise to law enforcement, where his studio is located. Maya described the atmosphere for LS-related studios as fun and relaxed. Often female photographers have been used to put models at ease. However, they urged models not to be friends with each other. Between 2000 and 2004, Maya modeled for over 50 sets and videos for various websites under LS studios, and was listed under different model names, although some websites listed her true name. She was one of the most popular models from LS Studio and had many fans. She was best known as Dasha or Anya. Her fans were nick-named Dashaphiles. Most of her modelling was done between the ages of 9 and 11. Dasha entered puberty at an early age, and she was often mistaken for an older person. It was almost fully developed by the age of 12. After LS Studio was searched by police in Ukraine in July 2004, Maya and her mother, like all other LS models, refused to press charges or testify against the studio or its owners. Currently married, has children. Her name or identity will not be listed here for privacy reasons. Problems.
